

ARRESTS LOOM IN FIRE INVESTIGATIONS

OKLA. SAVED AS MENACE OF FLOOD PASSES

Citizens Fortify Homes With Sandbags to Stave Off Swirling Waters

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 16.—The crest of the North Canadian river's worst flood was believed to be past at 9 o'clock this morning, after almost all the entire citizenship of Oklahoma City had worked frantically from midnight to daylight in sandbagging stores against possible inundation.

The river, according to the United States weather bureau, began receding shortly before 9 o'clock and the city dam holding back billions of barrels of flood water, withstood the test.

Reservoir Cracks
Two-thirds of this city was housing the other third today while the waters had filled the lowlands sections and swirled houses and property before it. The city reservoir had broken in one place, adding danger even to the business section of the city.

National Guard troops were on duty in addition to hundreds of special police, and orders were to shoot to kill if looting started.

Food and coffee lines were established at the Hockins hotel and other downtown places and all clubs, churches and organizations threw their doors open to the refugees, coming in from the low sections.

Crest at 25 Feet
Crest of the wave, never before more than seventeen feet, was soaring at 25 feet at the dam with a prospect of even higher during the day.

Pandemonium broke loose shortly after midnight when sirens began blowing a prearranged signal warning that the huge reservoir had broken. Fifteen thousand residents rushed to high ground.

Very few citizens slept through the night. Automobiles hurried here and there, taking refugees to the fair grounds, Masonic home, and church buildings. Women and children went from door to door throughout the high residential sections, pleading for spare beds and accommodations. Soldiers were dispatched to one place where looters were going through houses.

Railroads Disorganized
Railroad service throughout the state was virtually demoralized today. Steel bridges and miles of track had been wiped out almost on every line entering the city. The entire northwestern and western part of the state has been cut off from railroad communication.

Heavily burdened men, women and children trudged in endless procession, seeking places of rest and security after daybreak today.

From daybreak on thousands of automobiles skirted the flooded district, picking up refugees and carrying them to the scores of havens speedily provided.

Bungalows and cottages, never before menaced by water, were almost submerged.

PLAYERS WELCOME NOTED DIRECTOR

Plans for Presentation of 'Mrs. Wiggs' Outlined at Crowded Reception

A brilliant success was the reception held last night in the Palm Court of the Tuesday Afternoon club by the Glendale Community Players in honor of their new art director, Robert Stevenson of Chicago. Mr. Stevenson is a young man of unusual experience along all art lines. For two years he was director of the Little Theatre of Chicago. He has studied dancing under the celebrated teachers, Bohm and Fokine, and has designed costumes for many stage celebrities.

An audience of over 150 people listened to Mr. Stevenson's informal talk on the great possibilities of the Glendale Community Players along the lines of acting, singing and dancing. Following his talk, many present volunteered their services on the various art and social committees, a list of names being appended below.

'Mrs. Wiggs' Chosen
The director, Mrs. Nanno Woods, announced that "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," would be produced on Friday and Saturday nights, November 2 and 3. (Continued on page 7)

ELKS ENJOY BIRTHDAY PARTY

Exalted Ruler Apffel Gets Cups Won by Band, at Last Night's Program

Over 600 "Bills" participated Monday night in the celebration of the eleventh anniversary of the founding of the local Elks' lodge in their fine club home on Colorado street. Many notables were present, including F. C. White, secretary of the Los Angeles lodge, "grandmother" of the Glendale organization.

The principal speaker of the evening was Rex Goodell, collector of internal revenue in the Los Angeles district. The first speaker, Peter L. Perry, spoke at length on the early history of the order and the difficulties under which the twenty-seven charter members worked.

The evening was partly devoted to fifty Elks who journeyed over from Fillmore. The Fillmore contingent was formerly a part of the local lodge and they were extended an invitation to take part in the celebration. C. W. Harthorn, "father" of the Fillmore lodge, addressed the meeting on behalf of his party.

Cups Presented
A triumphant feature of the meeting was the presentation of the two trophy cups won by the Elks' band at the meeting of the state association at Eureka last month. C. Maurice Burke, band manager, presented the cups, which were received by Exalted Ruler James A. Apffel, who warmly commended the manager and his band. He also expressed appreciation of the co-operation given by William Osterman during the illness of Mr. Burke, in directing the band. Following Ruler Apffel's remarks Mr. Burke presented Osterman with a gold ring. During the evening the band rendered several selections, including the two numbers with which the cups were won.

An hour's entertainment by professional musicians followed the program of addresses, and then the meeting resolved itself into a social session, partook of refreshments and made merry until a late hour.

Picnic Big Success
The Elks' annual picnic Sunday at the old Verdugo park was declared to be a success from every viewpoint. A large crowd assembled early and stayed late. Lunches were brought by the visitors while ice cream and sodas were furnished by the lodge.

Considerable rivalry developed in the contests. First-prize winners in the various events, in the order stated, follow:

Youth Under Arrest Reveals How He Killed Salt Lake Patrolman

SAN BEDNARDINO, Oct. 16.—Arrested with two other youthful companions 100 miles from here, on suspicion as the slayers of Patrolman David H. Crowther, whose body was found with a bullet hole through the head near the Jordan river, west of Salt Lake City, Sunday night, Robert F. Saunders, 20, alleged paroled convict, is said to have made a complete confession to authorities here today that he committed the crime.

REDS FOILED IN RAID ON BERLIN

Police Warned by Spies, Block Communists' Coup to Capture Capital

BERLIN, Oct. 16.—One person was killed and ten wounded in a clash between unemployed demonstrators and police today.

Wilhelmstrasse (the street where the government buildings are located) was closed and guarded by armed forces.

Lorries filled with troops were whirled through the streets. An atmosphere of utmost tension prevailed.

Red Coup Fails
Up to 3 o'clock the communist attempt to raid Berlin had failed to develop anything more serious than spasmodic clashes with the police.

Police, reinforced by Reichswehr, seemed to have the situation completely in hand.

Communist headquarters were a beehive of activity. Couriers dashed in and out. Reds were rounded up in all parts of the city and placed under "action orders."

However, the plans to effect a coup were defeated by spies who kept the government informed of all arrangements.

Five thousand unemployed gathered in front of the Rathaus (city hall) demanding food. When charged by police some of the younger hotheads reformed in the neighborhood to give battle.

There were several minor tilts when the police tried to scatter them.

Police Fire Volley
An attempt was made to disarm the police. The latter fired a volley and one communist fell dead and several were wounded, three seriously.

A crowd gathered before the municipal building of Schoenberg, on the outskirts of Berlin, but was scattered by the police without any casualties.

A deputation of unemployed called upon the government demanding 10,000,000 marks at once for relief, two loaves of bread per family, two pounds of fat and adequate supplies of coal and coke.

Discipline of police and troops was admirable. They had no difficulty in dispersing the mobs. Business kept on as usual, except in the rioting area.

Rioters Killed When Police Clear Streets
MANNHEIM, Germany, Oct. 16.—Two persons were killed and more than twenty wounded in riots which raged here for twenty-four hours.

The trouble started when plunderers of foodshops fired upon police. They were temporarily subdued but fresh disorders broke out today when police cleared the streets with fixed bayonets.

Police Captain Boetch was shot through the throat, dying later in the hospital.

Herr Waldorf was dragged from his automobile by a band of youths and beaten so badly he had to be taken to a hospital.

French patrols in the occupied section of the city were strengthened.

COOLIDGE APPEALS FOR LOWER FREIGHT RATES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—President Coolidge today appealed directly to the nation's railroad executives for a reduction in railroad freight rates as a means of relieving the agriculture and fuel situations.

OFFICERS ARREST BROOKLYN MANUFACTURER
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—Charged with violating the Mann act, Joseph Elari, 30, a Brooklyn manufacturer, was arrested by department of justice agents and lodged in the county jail here today after he was alleged to have deserted his wife and children in the eastern city. With Elari when he was arrested was Bertha Diamond, 28.

CHARGE CONSPIRACY TO INCREASE COAL PRICE
WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The government took the offensive today in its war on alleged coal gougers when the federal trade commission filed formal complaints against six coal companies, charging a conspiracy "to enhance the price of coal to consumers."

MANY WITNESSES IN KU KLUX KLAN SUIT
INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 16.—The names of 500 persons, including high state and county authorities, were filed with United States Marshal Linus P. Meredith as material witnesses in the Ku Klux Klan conspiracy suit before Federal Judge Albert B. Anderson today.

'AMERICA ONLY AUTOCRACY'—LLOYD GEORGE
CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—"Your President Coolidge has to be an autocrat," Lloyd George told International News Service this afternoon. Under your system of government you can't help it."

FILIPINOS IN SEDITION SESSION

Legislature Adjourns Early After Governor Wood's Message Stirs Row

By NORBERT LYONS
For International News Service

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 16.—Amid grim and foreboding silence Governor General Leonard Wood read his annual message to the Philippine legislature at noon today.

As he entered the legislative chamber, accompanied by Major-General Read, Admiral Marvel and Osborn Wood, his aide, the joint session rose. Governor Wood shook hands with Senate Leader Manuel Quezon and Speaker Roxas of the house and then read his 5,000 word message in a calm, even tone.

Silence Is Ominous
No sound of approval or disapproval followed its completion, and Governor Wood and his companions marched out amid deathly silence.

Governor Wood's message called for co-operation on the part of the legislature and recommended many reform measures.

Immediately upon the exit of Governor Wood from the legislative hall, Quezon and Roxas, who are bitter anti-Wood leaders, presented a resolution reviewing and approving the resignation of the department secretaries and the consequent actions of the independence commission, including its demand for Governor Wood's recall.

Representative Vicente Sotto gave notice before the session adjourned that he will introduce a bill declaring the independence of the Philippines from the United States.

Borders On Sedition
Sotto admitted his measure bordered on sedition, but declared "it will be the best means of making the coalition come into the open and end their double-faced game." The thirteen states had a right to pass such a bill yet they declared their independence, he added.

Senator Tirona, democrat leader, brought up the fact that Secretary of War Weeks is understood to have cabled Governor Wood backing him up on every point and pointing out that the administration at Washington is apparently solidly behind Governor Wood.

As heated discussion followed and Quezon and Roxas called for an adjournment of the legislature until Wednesday morning. This was approved.

Smith Will Ask Fund Donations
C. of C. Directors to Hear Plea of President for Aid to Bereaved Ones

President Jesse E. Smith will tonight submit to the directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce a recommendation that the organization participate actively in the collection of the fund that is being raised for the relief of the families of J. W. McGahan and Clarence Edwards, who lost their lives in the disastrous fire that swept the Verdugo Hills Saturday.

"The heroism shown by Mr. McGahan and Mr. Edwards, who laid down their lives for their fellow-citizens in Glendale might be saved from the fire that was threatening the city," said Mr. Smith, in a statement this morning. "It is something that the people of Glendale should recognize in the most generous manner possible. Their death has imposed on us who have been saved an obligation that should be freely and willingly assumed, and every effort should be made to lighten the burden of those who have been so tragically bereaved."

Mr. Smith has already been assured of generous co-operation in his plan to swell the fund that is being raised for the relatives of the two men.

Long Beach Officers Face Girls' Charges
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—Three Long Beach policemen, accused of taking Velma Chambers, 15, and Clara Ship, 17, two girls of the beach city, on automobile "petting parties," were to give preliminary hearings today before Superior Judge Hahn.

All three officers are accused specifically of contributing to the delinquency of minors, in a complaint issued by Deputy District Attorney J. W. Joos. In addition to these three, four other officers have been accused of similar offenses and will be given their preliminary hearings within a few days.

Big-Hearted Glendale People Come to Aid Of Bereaved Families

Generous Response Should Result From Evening News Appeal for Hero Fund Honoring Two Who Gave Lives

By WINFIELD S. INGRAM
Of The Evening News Staff

Big hearted people of Glendale are today pausing long enough to offer a silent prayer for the families of the two men who made the supreme sacrifice while fighting flames on San Rafael hills east of the city—and then they are taking out their check books and swelling the fund being raised for the living victims of the conflagration.

Prayers help—and so does money. Together they make a combination that's irresistible. So the generous people of Glendale are responding to the call for aid just as Clarence Edwards and Joseph W. McGahan responded when the call for volunteers to fight the fire went forth.

Leaves Aged Mother
Clarence Edwards offered himself in the World War, and returned, to become a member of the American Legion. He leaves an aged mother, whom he was supporting.

Joseph W. McGahan leaves a widow and two children. The future looks dark to them.

But from behind the clouds come rays of happiness out of the hearts—and checkbooks—of Glendale people. They will see to it that the families of the fire's dead do not suffer from financial worries.

The grief of that aged mother, the grief of that widow and her children, will be tempered by the fact they will know the sincere sympathy of all Glendale goes out to them—and that citizens halt to their activities long enough to write out a check, a check of gratitude.

The Glendale Evening News is receiving subscriptions to the fund and contributions to date are:

The funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock at the First Congregational church on North Central and Wilson avenues, with Rev. C. M. Calderwood, pastor of the church, and Rev. B. Dudley Snodden, formerly pastor of the First Methodist church of Glendale, now of South Pasadena, and a close friend of the deceased, officiating.

There will be two vocal numbers, "Face to Face" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," sung by Keamoku A. Louis, baritone.

Legionnaires in Uniform
Members of the Glendale Legion post will attend the service in a body. The pallbearers will be legionnaires in uniform, and Donald Packer, second vice-commander of the post, will represent the post in the service at the church.

Chalmers Day, commander, and Mitchell Frug, first vice-commander are in San Francisco attending the convention.

The legion post will also have a firing squad at the cemetery in charge of Captain J. H. Wittmeyer of the National Guards, and two buglers, who will sound "Taps" with a distant echo.

Another organization attending the services in a body will be the United Lodge, F. and A. M. of which Mr. Edwards was a member. Under the leadership of Harmon A. Strong, worshipful master, the lodge men will attend the service at the church, and take charge of the burial ritual.

Interment will take place in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. The Kiefer & Eyerick Undertaking company is in charge of arrangements.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—Arrested at Santa Fe Springs by a deputy sheriff, Mr. and Mrs. David Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boyns were brought to the county jail here today and booked for alleged violation of the Wright act. An additional charge of vagrancy was placed against them.

According to complaints against the quartet, they had been operating "soft drink" establishments in the oil fields at Santa Fe Springs, but had not confined their sales strictly to soft beverages.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—A general roundup by United States marshals of local oil promoters accused of using the mails to defraud, was scheduled to be started today with the return of secret indictments by the federal grand jury in connection with the oil inquiry, which has been before the inquisitorial body for some time.

LA. FORESTRY HEAD GETS EVIDENCE OF GUILT

BULLETIN
Police officers arriving at Killian's barbecue on Verdugo road at 12:30 p. m. today state that they have combed the fire area with the exception of three water tunnels and so far have found no trace of the three bodies sought in their quest. They are continuing their search this afternoon.

HONOR TO BE PAID TWO FIRE VICTIMS
J. W. McGahan Funeral This Afternoon; Services for Clarence Edwards

By GIL A. COWAN
Of The Evening News Staff

Continued search today to locate three bodies reported to have been seen in the San Rafael hills by Southern California Edison company employees yesterday had revealed nothing at noon today, according to the police.

Detective Lieut. W. J. Royle, Sergeant J. D. Cole and Motorcycle Officers M. H. Collins and Dan Armer are on the trail with J. R. Thorpe of the Oakmont Saddle stables of Montrose in a final effort to find the men believed missing.

From Los Angeles comes word that County Forester Stuart J. Flincham plans five arrests in connection with fires starting over the weekend in the vicinity where thousands of acres and several homes were burned.

Fires that raged in Antelope valley and Los Flores canyon were reported out today, bringing to a close a dozen disastrous conflagrations, the most serious of which was in the hills between Eagle Rock and Glendale.

Buzzards May Give Clew
While no word has been received from the police in the hills, it is opined by Mr. Thorpe that not until the buzzards begin flying about will the bodies of the reported missing men be found. It is wild country and tons of earth slid following the burning of the brush, changing the terrain. (Continued on page 7)

SOCIETY AGHAST OVER TESTIMONY

Leaders of Gotham's '400' and Wall Street Involved in Stokes Divorce

By JACK CARBERRY
For International News Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Charging that titian-haired Helen Elwood Stokes, pretty young wife of William Earl Dodge Stokes, 73-year-old millionaire turman, was known in New York's gay Bohemia of 1911 to 1917 as "Red Helen," Mrs. Annie Doering, mother of Gladys Dale, one-time soubrette with Anna Held, came to the defense of the aged sportsman today in his fight to divorce his wife and obtain custody of their two children.

Society stood aghast here today as the sixth episode of the super-sensational divorce drama of "Stokes vs. Stokes."

Notables Involved
Scandal involving two widely known matrons of New York's "four hundred" and naming two married men of Wall Street connections, loomed as the newest development in the efforts of the 73-year-old millionaire turman, to free himself from his beautiful young wife.

Anna McIntosh, negro cook at the "love nest," Stokes alleged, was kept by Edgar T. Wallace, San Francisco oil man, co-respondent in the trial, resumed testimony today.

"I was cooking for Wallace in May, 1914," the McIntosh woman testified.

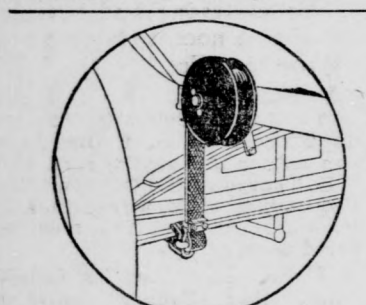

The date was four and a half months before Mrs. Stokes' eldest child was born.

Looked Through Keyhole
"Anna Johnson was serving maid at the flat. She told me he was entertaining a red-headed woman. I peeked through the keyhole—I wanted to see Mrs. Stokes."

"There were three men and three women at breakfast. The women were lightly attired. I don't know who was in the party except Mrs. Stokes—she's the one I wanted to see."

Washington street, Los Angeles, Cal., says: 'I believe the hard work I did around the house caused my kidneys to become affected. I suffered intensely from aggravating pains in the small of my back. My back hurt so I couldn't stand and for a few days I was beyond going. This suffering put me in a nervous condition and weakness made me miserable.
My kidneys became weak, too. I gave Doan's Kidney Pills a fair trial and in a short time they brought relief. I continued to take Doan's, with the result that kidney trouble and its annoying symptoms were banished.'

Southern California Looks Good to Gray

"I am more sold than ever on Southern California!" reports A. T. Gray, builder, with offices at 299 West Broadway, who returned Sunday with Mrs. Gray from a month's trip east, including stops at Joplin and Kansas City, Mo.

"Everywhere we went," he says, "we found people anxious to sell out and come here, not only farmers but merchants, big and small. So crowded are the trains going west that, although we made our return reservations four days in advance, we found them difficult to secure. Financial affairs seem in a fairly healthy state back east, in the large centers, but the farmers have been hard hit through Missouri and Iowa by the excessive rains. Generally speaking, farm lands are not turning over fast right now. This may be due to the fact that farmers everywhere are only too willing to sell or trade so as to get to California."

While at Joplin, Mr. and Mrs. Gray visited Mr. Gray's brother, Charles Gray, and family, together with a host of old friends. At Kansas City they attended for two weeks the world convention of the Organized Church of Jesus Christ and Latter Day Saints.

Capt. Francis Lawler Meets N. Y. Friends

Captain Francis Lawler of 807 East Park avenue, formerly a resident of New York city, "never will go back," but he does get homesick to hear some of the folks say "Thou-thold" street. So he got out yesterday morning with a decorated car and was among those present to greet the New York to California caravan which passed through here.

Accompanying the tourists to Pasadena he met a man named Brennan from Greenview Village, whom he formerly knew, and it seemed mighty good to hear the latest gossip about the quaint cafes and coffee shops of the artists' section of New York.

Jacksons Start Back After Eastern Trip

Postmaster and Mrs. D. C., are now en route home again. They will come by steamer to New Orleans and by train from that point, and it is expected that they will reach Glendale Sunday or Monday next.

Adhering to his lucky number, Captain Jackson started his homeward journey on October 13.

Complete Additions to Grammar Schools

Additions to the Acacia Avenue and Central Avenue schools have been completed and were occupied Monday morning, while the additional rooms at the Doran street, Broadway and part of the Pacific Avenue schools will be ready for the installation of equipment within a week. The double session arrangement has been discontinued at the Acacia and Central Avenue schools, as will be done in the case of the others as soon as the additional space is available.

COMMENT That's All

Peace Born of Desire America for Americans
Paved Highways Needed
Our Community Conscience

By Gil A. Cowan

While the American Legion's national convention is more or less of a social and sporting event, these comrades of the World War in session at San Francisco are hearing some mighty valuable advice from such leaders as Colonel Alvin Owsley and Secretary of Labor James J. Davis.

First, Mr. Owsley's plea for disarmament should strike a popular note. Peace can only be promoted by a desire for peace and expenditures for war purposes are preposterous, in the eyes of the writer.

Yet, there are two sides to the question and the United States must approach the ultimate goal of world fellowship cautiously. America cannot rush in where angels fear to tread, if we may use the expression discreetly.

Peace cannot be mandatory. It must be born of desire. And who can say that Europe desires peace when its nationalities still dream of empires rather than unity?

Restriction of immigration favored by Mr. Davis also must be brought about slowly, rather than in one fell swoop of legislative action.

Selective immigration is necessary and the floodgates closed to the unassimilable hordes. Indeed, it is too bad that many in this free country were admitted to its shores to spread dissension and racial prejudice.

Would it not be wonderful if the whole of America were as fundamentally American as the city of Glendale?

We ask that question with a bit of justifiable pride, for this city has a balance of races that is commendable. It is not Japanese, Italianized, Hebrew, Scotch, Hollandized, Anglicized, Cultured or otherwise overrun. It has the best of all, we believe, and in the words of a salesman:

"A little bit of good material goes a lot farther and gives more satisfaction than a whole lot of cheap stuff."

A motor caravan from New York passed through Glendale yesterday en route from the Atlantic to the Pacific. It brings to the attention of us all the necessary progress to be made in road building, on which the San Bernardino Sun comments as follows:

"Paved or hard-surfaced highways in the United States are stated to aggregate 115,000 miles. This would be equal to 35 or 40 roads built across the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The figures serve to show the extent to which the demand for good roads has taken hold of the people, and merely a start has been made."

"From the advent of railroads up to within a score of years the good roads movement languished. Roads were built, it is true, but the idea had no such grip on the public interest as has developed with the coming of the automobile. Now everybody wants an all-the-year-round road right by his home. It will be many years before the demand is satisfied in this respect, and in remote regions it is possible that the ultimate never will be realized, but progress to that end will be made with time."

Thus has the country reverted to the customs of the Romans. They knew that they could not hold outlying provinces unless they had means of reaching them readily. Therefore they built roads, and good roads. The belief that seems to have prevailed once, that railroads would make public highways of little importance except for local purposes, has been found to be an error. The roads are needed to feed and supplement the railroads. While many railroads were built which time has shown to have been in excess of demands, never was more zeal shown in promoting the real highways than is exhibited now in checker-boarding the land with hard-surfaced roads.

"While some may object to the cost, even the most bitter opponent of improvement would not revert to former conditions, once a modern road is built. The good road always proves its case."

Liberal Glendale is coming to the aid of the bereaved victims of the fire which endangered the city over the week-end. It is in no sense charity, but only a deserving recognition, by those who can afford to contribute, for those who may be financially embarrassed by the loss of a husband, father or son.

Such an expression shows this community has a conscience and assures others who may be called upon to meet an emergency that their loved ones are sure of consideration on the part of their fellow citizens in the darkest hours of life's tragedies.

The weak-kneed limping behind the troop will never be asked to hoist the flag of victory.

'They All Come Back' Writes Jas. W. Pearson

By JAMES W. PEARSON
Realtor of 715 South Brand
Written for The Evening News

Some six years ago I sold a home on Lomita. The seller went north to Washington, and the buyer moved in. About three years later the buyer had to move north on account of business connections, and I sold the place for him.

This summer, 1923, the original seller moved back to Glendale to live, saying that he and his wife always wanted to get back to Glendale. The party who bought from him six years ago and sold and moved north three years later has also moved back to Glendale this fall. His wife tells this: "When he knew that he was to be transferred to Los Angeles he came to me and said, 'Well, we are going home.'"

His wife knew what he meant—that they were able to again live in Glendale. "We are going home." What a beautiful thought! Don't you think that there are many Glendaleans who would, under the same conditions, make the same

John A. Pope Weds Winifred Sternberg

Miss Winifred Sternberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Sternberg of 905 E. Windsor road, Glendale, on Sunday, October 14, 1923, became the bride of John A. Pope, proprietor of Pope's confectionery, 111 South Brand boulevard, Glendale, the oldest established business of its kind here. The well known young couple were married at 8:30 o'clock in the morning by Rev. C. A. Cole, pastor of the Central Christian church. Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wilson attended them. Friends and relatives were present to witness the ceremony which culminates a friendship of years' standing.

Mr. Pope returned from service in the Fifty-first balloon company, U. S. A., four years ago, and purchased Thad Yaeger's confectionery here. Miss Sternberg had been an employee of the store. The new acquaintance ripened into love and now that a period of prosperity has been reached, Mr. Pope, who is an Elk, has claimed his most valued clerk as his bride.

The Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital

Our treatments are the same as used by the famous Battle Creek Sanitarium of Battle Creek, Michigan, and consist of diet, exercise, massage, electric light baths, salt glows, hot applications, hot and cold sprays, galvanic and sinusoidal electricity. The laboratories are equipped with fine X-ray machines with the latest stereoscopic improvements.

The efficient methods of treating the sick, combined with a scientific knowledge of the preparations and combinations of foods used in a vegetarian, or so-called non-flesh dietary, gives the patient a well-balanced course of treatment.

Fail to Find More Bodies in Fire Ruins

rain and making a search almost futile.

A dozen deer were spotted by the officers and these refugees of the fire, in addition to one large live lizard, are all that rewarded them in the search, except charred remains of dead rabbits and other small wild life.

W. E. Magee, Tujunga man who was badly burned and finally made his way to Montrose, after lying in the fire area all day Sunday, is reported in a serious condition.

E. K. Spencer, employee of the Johnson-Anawalt Lumber company, also reported missing, was located at the home of A. W. Brown in Montrose, where he was succeeded in a fatigued condition.

The report at Montrose continues to be heard that three men's bodies have been removed, but it cannot be pinned down to its source.

Gas Company Employees Heroes in Brush Blaze

Ignacio Lutsiana, an employee of the local office, Southern California Gas company, 126 North Maryland avenue, who was badly burned Saturday afternoon in fighting the fire that menaced Glendale, is still under the care of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, reports S. C. Singer, manager, who states that seventy-three men in all, comprising five gangs, were the contribution of his organization to the host of fire-fighters who battled bravely to save the city.

This band of fighters was divided into five gangs, Mr. Singer reports, each in charge of a competent leader. "We are proud of the work done by our men and their leaders in holding back and beating down this disastrous fire," he says.

The leaders were Charles Nagle, Henry Meek, A. Gaulrapp, Harry Waters and H. W. Vailis.
Due to quick action by the gas company in shutting off lines in the fire area, but two meters were lost and there were no gas fires, states Mr. Singer, the meters lost being in houses consumed by the flames.

Community Players Greet New Director

3, in the auditorium of the Tuesday Afternoon club, with Mrs.
Fannie Stockbridge in her Moros-co role of "Miss Hazy" and Mrs.
L. W. Bradley as "Mrs. Wiggs".
The director believes that Community Players should play to Glendale community at popular prices, therefore the price of admission to any seat in the auditorium has been fixed at 35 cents. Laboring under a rental for the auditorium of $120, it is imperative that the auditorium be filled to capacity each night of performance. Over 500 tickets were issued to the audience for sale, and 1500 more are ready for distribution to the public.

A program of attractive numbers was then given. Miss Dorothy Woods gave two child im-provisations, "The New Brother" and "The Crow's Egg." Mrs. Almona Bullock entranced her listeners by her beautiful soprano voice in "Carmen." Miss Kathleen Woods gave a song and dance, "Sweet Alice Blue Gown." Little Miss Corinne Pittenger, talented child violinist, performed the "Hungarian Idyll."
The last number was an exhibition waltz danced by Robert Stevenson and Miss Kathleen Woods.
A social section of the Players was then formed, with William E. Welz as social secretary, assisted by Mrs. Eustace Moore and others whose names appear in the program. There will be a social entertainment twice a month, a dance, or whatever the committee plans.
This section is open to players and nonplayers, and will provide a means of social enjoyment for men and women, whether young or old.

THE GLENDALE

According to legend, Robin Hood, he of infinite exploits of matchless valor in the days of chivalry eight hundred years ago, hit upon a clever method of avoiding the odium of robbery when he audaciously dedicated himself to the occupation of "robbing the rich to feed the poor."

He made a practice of inviting wealthy men to dine with him, and he played the part of a most hospitable host, affording his guests the best of high-class edibles, including rare venison and choice fowls. Then, at the conclusion of each such repast, he would appear suddenly, armed with his trusty bow-and-arrow, and, using this to impress his seriousness, would demand that each guest pay for his dinner.
It is claimed that, following each of these incursions on purse and pelf, there would be an era of plenty in whatever district Robin Hood happened to be, because he would always divide the spoils with the needy.

As played by Douglas Fairbanks in his elaborate screen production
"Douglas Fairbanks in 'Robin Hood,'" a United Artists release, at the Glendale theatre, this character compels unstinted admiration, his charmingly romantic pendant being especially stressed in this notable characterization, which bids fair to live in cinema history as one of the most conspicuous triumphs ever attained by any star in any histrionic effort.

Wood's Message Stirs Filipino Legislators

ministration officials are carried through. International News Service learned today.

It is believed that a series of lectures by General Wood would be the best possible method of combating the political campaign being conducted by Manuel Quezon and other Filipino politicians for the independence of the Philippines.

The administration is anxious to set before the American public certain facts about the islands which are not generally known, and which tend to show that the Filipinos are not yet ready for independence.

For instance, the supporters of the Wood regime contend that during the past year the Filipinos enjoyed greater prosperity than ever before. They point out that through the flotation of a four and one-half per cent loan in the United States the peso is now of equal value with the American dollar while two years ago Philippine currency was at a 16 per cent discount. Furthermore, they declare that the Philippines received approximately $33 a ton more for sugar last year than did any other persons who had similar transactions with this government while they derived a corresponding benefit through export to this country of cigarettes and tobacco.

Science Tells Cause of Milk Souring

Housewives often wonder why milk sours on a cool day. To understand this, a few bacteriological facts are necessary. A chemical analysis of milk shows that it consists of 87 per cent water, fats, protein matters and certain salts such as lactose, glucose and man-nate. When these salts are transformed into lactic acid the milk sours.

The change of these salts into lactic acid is not directly produced by warmth, but by microscopic organisms bearing the scientific name of bacterium acid-lactici.
In a warm temperature they multiply very rapidly. Hence in a bottle of milk exposed to a temperature higher than 50 degrees for even a few hours the bacterium acid-lactici increase literally by the thousands. The result is sour milk. This accounts for the souring of milk even on cool days.
For in California there are only a few days in the year when the temperature does not go above 50 degrees at least for two or three hours out of the day.

Bacterium acid-lactici are not,
as many people suppose, animals, but tiny plants. They are harmless, and must not be confused with disease germs. On the other hand, there are certain other pu-trifactive bacteria, those producing ptomaine, for instance, which are decidedly harmful. None, however, can exist in a temperature kept lower than 50 degrees by means of ice, it is claimed.

THE GATEWAY

D. W. Griffith's newest screen production, "The White Rose," deals almost entirely with the south. The story concerns an orphan wait who wins the heart and hand of a scion of wealth and position. There figure also in the romance an opposite in the case of a haughty and socially proud girl of means who has much difficulty in discouraging the attentions of a youth who has been less fortunate and happens to be the son of a village grocer. The boy makes good and eventually wins the girl. A negro "mammy" and her arduous dusky admirer pair off in contrast and afford the principal comedy for the whole.

Interior scenes were first made at the Griffith plant at Mammo-neck, N. Y. Then he visited the old Bayou Teche country in western Louisiana for genuine old south scenes and later journeyed to Miami, Florida, where he leased a studio for further work, at the same time making many countryside scenes in various parts of that state.

Among the noted players who are to be seen in "The White Rose," a United Artists release at the Gateway Theatre are Carol Dempsier, Mae Marsh, Ivor Novello, Nell Hamilton, Lucille La Verne, Porter Strong, Herbert
Sutch and many others.

Prizes offered this year in France to stimulate aviation by the government, cities, club and individuals total 4,262,000 francs.

lightful afternoon. Refreshments were served at 5 o'clock by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Jane.

These affairs, inaugurated to promote sociability among the women of the city, are proving a great success and most gratifying to the hostesses yesterday was the presence of representative women connected with practically every school in the city, a demonstration of the spirit of co-operation among the P. T. A. organizations. These parties are open to the public and a special invitation is extended to strangers and newcomers in the city. The next party will be at the home of Mrs. Stan-street, the first Monday in No-

NEW OFFICE FOR WESTERN UNION

Several Thousands Will Be Expended in Local Improvements

The Glendale office of the Western Union Telegraph company will be moved from its present location at 127 North Brand boulevard to a more commodious room at 223 South Brand, about the first of November.

This information was given out following a week's investigation of available locations, by W. B. Williams, city superintendent of the Los Angeles office of the company, of which office the local establishment is a branch. Mr. Williams was in the city Monday, in company with plant engineers from the Los Angeles office, who were here to prepare plans for the installation of new fixtures.

Several thousand dollars will be spent by the Western Union in adapting the new location to its needs and in the purchase and installation of new equipment. When completed the office here will be one of the most up-to-date the company maintains anywhere. It

Hi-Y Hears Fraser's Warning on Gambling

"Americans, as a nation, want to take a chance, especially the young people. Gambling begins with the marble games and matching for ice cream sodas, and leads on to professional games. A professional gambler is always a professional gambler, who has no social or financial standing in his community. My advice to you boys is to keep away from gambling in any form."

This was the message brought to Glendale Hi-Y club by Col. John D. Fraser, chief of the Glendale police department, at the meeting last night at the First Methodist church.

Chief Fraser was introduced by Harold Heacock. There were sixty-five boys and men present.

Next week the various Hi-Y groups will have individual affairs.

There will be an evidence of the concern's faith in the future of Glendale. Local employees of the company have been cramped for space and hampered by inadequate facilities for the handling of Glendale's growing business, during many months past. The new room is many times larger than the one occupied at present, being twenty feet wide by 128 feet deep. A long term lease was obtained on the

Eyraud Opens Second Garage on Los Feliz

Henry J. Eyraud, who has been conducting a garage under the style of Henry's Garage, at 926 South Brand boulevard, for the past two years, has leased the building at 116-120 West Los Feliz road and has opened a branch there, keeping the same name as the parent establishment.

In the two shops Mr. Eyraud will employ about ten men, all of whom are expert mechanics with years of experience on automobiles, and he declares that he stands behind every job turned out from either shop. Ed Hoover, formerly with the Packer Auto company, 245 South Brand boulevard, will be in charge of the shop at 926 South Brand boulevard, with Buford Medlin, well known in Glendale as an automobile expert, as his assistant.

Both shops are fitted up with the most modern equipment for handling any kind or size of job, and the West Los Feliz branch will maintain a day and night service, with tow car and all facilities for caring for motorists. Rest rooms have been provided, and the convenience of his patrons will be one of the guiding principles in both establishments.

Former Oxy Student Tells of Jap Quake

Dean Thomas G. Burt of Occidental College is in receipt of a letter from Lehmann Hisey, former Oxy student, who was in Tokio at the time of the terrible earthquake.

An account of his escape follows: "I had been stopping at the Grand hotel, Yokohama, but that morning had left for Tokio by machine in a violent rainstorm. When the first shock occurred we were in the dining room of the Imperial hotel, Tokio. Somehow we escaped into Emperor's park, and from there twenty miles inland by machine, where we saw the smoke of both cities. That night our machine slid into a large crack and we were forced to abandon it entirely.

"We set out at daylight, and at noon reached the smoking ruins of what had been Yokohama. After anxious bargaining we secured a sampan, sculling our way through oily water to the S. S. Steel Navigator, where we were taken aboard and given medical aid, food and clothing.

BIG INCREASE NOTED

At the end of June the world's merchant marine has increased 1,123,000 gross tons in a year, 63 per cent of the gain being represented by German shipping.

Fire and Water Stops Progress on Church

Completion of work on the new Glendale Presbyterian church building on East Harvard street, has been handicapped by the burning of the front doors and interior woodwork in the lumber yard fire Sunday at Vernon, and by a broken water pipe on the third floor of the building, resulting in the flooding of the new Sunday school room.

The front doors and interior woodwork were specially made, and all were lost in the fire at the Ganahl Lumber company plant, it is said.

The leak in the water pipe was not discovered until the walls and the floor of the Sunday school room were completed. Because the walls of the room are cement instead of plaster, the damage is not great and can be remedied by retinting the walls. Refinishing the floors will also be necessary.

TALKS ON EVOLUTION

The theory of evolution will be discussed tomorrow night at the Tropic Presbyterian church on South Central and Laurel avenues by Harry Rimmer. Speaking at 7:30 o'clock Mr. Rimmer will talk on "How Science Exploded the Evolutionary Theory."

Meeting in Room 124, tomorrow afternoon, the parents will be greeted by Mrs. George U. Moyse, vice-principal of the school; Mrs. E. B. Moore, president of the Glendale Parent-Teacher association; and Ronald West, president of the student cabinet of the high school.

Mrs. Moyse will bring a message from the school faculty. Mrs. Moore will speak on federation activities and Ronald West will talk on the student body season tickets, a subject brought for discussion at the P. T. A. federation meeting last week.

Musical Numbers
The entertainment program to be presented will include a number by a stringed trio, Lillian Sutton, violinist; Margaret Rose, piano; "Fair Maid" (Victor Herbert); reading, "Mollie Buys a Hat," by Cecil Chase, and a vocal number, "Gondola Song," by the girls' glee club, directed by Mrs. Charles A. Parker.

The final event of the afternoon will be an informal social hour in the school cafeteria.

Early Neglect Blamed for Feeble Brains by Speaker Before Child Health Group

DETROIT, Oct. 16.—Virtually every case of mental deficiency recorded has its origin during the formative period of the life of the person affected, in the opinion of Dr. Arnold Gessell, Ph. D., director of the Yale psycho-clinic and professor of child hygiene at Yale university, who addressed the delegates to the annual convention of the American Child Health Association at today's session.

Discussing "The Pre-School Child As a Health Problem," Dr. Gessell made an earnest plea for a more intensive effort by individuals and organizations to improve the health and mental equipment of the child from two to six years old, who so long has been neglected.

"No Man's Land"
"The pre-school child is being rediscovered," he said. "A few years ago the pre-school period of childhood was picturesquely called the 'No Man's Land' in the field of public endeavor. It was pointed out that there were social provisions to protect the new-born infant and compulsory safeguards for boys and girls of the school age; but that the toddler and run-about did not have our official concern."

"But all this is changing now. The 'No Man's Land' is beginning to look like a frontier settlement. Outposts have been established. Supervisors are on the ground. There is every indication that the health and development of pre-school children are coming under systematic social control."

Dr. Gessell said that a misapprehension that the child outgrows its childishness might be responsible for this lack of interest of the past. Children grow into things they learn in the pre-school period, he asserted, and added that it was safe to say that from a medical and psychological standpoint the basic lines of both physical and mental organization are laid down during the formative pre-school years.

Cites Death Rate
"One-third of the deaths of all the nation occur below the age of six," the speaker continued. "and there are ten times as many deaths during the half-decade of pre-school life as during the following full decade of school life. Even physical accidents bear with special weight on the pre-school child. Susceptibility to infection is generally greater the younger the child. Virtually 80 per cent of all cases of diphtheria occur before the age of five. Health work here pays the highest dividends."

The speaker made an especial plea for mental development of children of this age. He declared that what is true of the physical is true of the mental effort and

Meeting on Thursday for Plan Campaign for Proposed Drive for Funds

Final steps for launching the drive for the Glendale Welfare Chest were completed at a luncheon at Jensen's Egyptian Village yesterday, when the members of the organization that was recently formed were the guests of Dr. Henry R. Harrower, of the Harrower Laboratories, 920 East Broadway.

Insurance Man Will Establish So. Calif. Headquarters in Glendale Office

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jensen, who arrived in Glendale a week ago, from their former home in Le Mars, Iowa, yesterday closed a deal for a $15,000 home at 432 North Howard street and will move in immediately. The deal was made through P. C. Brown of the Frank Meline Co., 227 South Brand boulevard.

Mr. Jensen has been appointed Southern California representative of the Bankers' Life Insurance Company of Des Moines, Iowa, and will establish his main office and headquarters in Glendale, covering the rest of his territory through agencies that he will shortly establish.

Mr. Jensen before taking up life insurance, over four years ago, spent twenty-three years in the pharmaceutical profession. During the first seven months of the present year Mr. Jensen sold close to half a million dollars' worth of insurance in Iowa, a record of which he feels proud, in view of business conditions in that state.

The Southern California territory looks exceptionally bright, he declares, and he expects to build up an important volume of business in this region.

Mr. and Mrs. Jensen are accompanied by their two sons, Wayne, who recently graduated from the Marathon, Iowa, high school and who expects to enter college shortly, and Alan, who is now a student in the eighth grade of the Glendale schools.

Sherborne No Longer With Evening News

Albert B. Casteel has succeeded Arthur Sherborne as a member of The Glendale Evening News staff, the latter having severed connections with this newspaper, and is no longer authorized to obtain news therefor.

Mr. Casteel is a resident of Glendale, a thorough news writer, with a large acquaintance among Montanans, having been a publisher in that state. His addition undoubtedly will strengthen the staff materially.

H. Thompson Rich of The Evening News staff and Mrs. Rich returned today from Sacramento and San Francisco, where Mr. Rich was writing special dispatches on the California Real Estate and American Legion conventions.

Greatest Parade Re-echoing Tunes of Trenches Features Second Day at Legion Meet

By COPELAND C. BURG
For International News Service

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16.—Their feet re-echoing the paths they trod in "no man's land" in 1917 and their voices again raised in cries of battle and the tunes of the trenches, more than 60,000 world war veterans marched here this morning in a gigantic military parade, which marked the second day of the fifth American Legion convention. Twenty thousand sea warriors—sailors of the Pacific fleet at anchor in San Francisco bay—joined the Legionnaires in the parade with hundreds of delegates of the Legion auxiliary and various war workers' organizations.

In a riot of color the flower of America's former fighting forces marched through the marts of trade, lined with a host of San Franciscans and visitors from all parts of the globe who lifted their voices in friendly greeting as the uniformed delegates tramped upward from the bay to San Francisco's civic center. In a mighty blending of khaki, gold braid, shining puttees, the blue of the navy and all the hues of King Solomon's coat, as represented by various bands, cadet corps, auxiliaries and clubs, the marchers passed in review in a scene more brilliant than fields of Flanders poppies.

"Greatest Parade"
Heralded as the greatest parade of its kind ever attempted in the west, all advance notices were followed, as perhaps more persons stepped along to the flare of bands and drum corps than ever in the history of any western city.

Infantry, artillery, machine guns, ordnance, aviation, marine and navy—all the branches of the war department—were represented in the spectacle. The mighty fighting equipment on land, sea and air contributed to bring home to the host of spectators the story of the military.

All Are There
Every state in the union, every regiment of the days of '17 flung out its colors as the Legionnaires trekked past the reviewing stands, where Admiral R. E. Coontz, commander of the United States fleet; Secretary of Labor Davis, Legion Commander Alvin Owsley and other distinguished visitors raised their hands in salute.

As the pageant progressed, various delegations vied with each other for the nod of the crowds. Cowboy bands from Texas and Montana, a calliope from Wisconsin, brightly-clad female cadets from the plains of Nebraska, Indians from the southwest, copper-helmeted trench heroes from Arizona and delegations in a colorful variety of uniforms from far eastern states bid for honors.

Four After 1924 Meeting
In the contest for the next convention of the Legion, marchers from Boston, Cincinnati, Atlantic City and Victoria, B. C., held high their banners.

From the fun-making and revelry of this morning's military exposition, the delegates turned their attention this afternoon to vital problems which affect the

PLAN RECEPTION FOR FACULTIES

P. T. A. Honor Teachers on October 19 at G. U. H. S. Girls' Gymnasium

Glendale honors the city teachers each year with an informal reception, and the event this year is to take place Friday night, October 19, in the girls' gymnasium at the Glendale Union High school.

The reception is being arranged by the Parent-Teacher association federation, and Mrs. E. B. Moore, president, says: "We want this reception to be an inspiring get-together of every teacher and parent in Glendale, and we are extending a most cordial invitation to every member of the teaching corps, to every school patron and to all Glendaleans interested in Glendale schools."

In planning the affair Mrs. A. J. Grant, courtesy chairman, has been made general chairman for the reception. She will be assisted by the courtesy chairman of the various associations. Each association has been assigned a certain duty in arranging the affair and as was carried out last year, the schools will have special refreshment tables, where the teachers and parents may meet for greeting.

During the evening the following program will be given: Greetings from Mrs. E. B. Moore.

Responses from Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan and Normal Hayhurst representing the teachers.

Vocal number by Mayor Spencer Robinson, accompanied by Mrs. Robinson.

Selection by the Boys' Glee club. Violin and whistling selections by Corinne and Mary Ellen Fittinger.

Wherever there are Kiddies there Should be ICE!

You cannot expect happy minds and healthy little bodies in growing children unless they get pure, wholesome food, with nutritive qualities unimpaired. And a great many foods positively cannot be kept pure and wholesome unless they are kept in the cold, even temperature of a refrigerator.

In such foods—milk, for instance—germs multiply rapidly when the temperature reaches 50 degrees, and the food loses much of its value, even before it actually spoils.

There is one safe rule to follow when there are children in the house—keep your refrigerator well filled with ice every month in the year.

Tourists to Europe Now En Route Home

In a communication dated September 23, on board the S. S. Manchuria of the American line, Mrs. Camilla T. Smith of 809 South Verdugo road, Glendale, wrote to friends here that she and Esther Lundstrom of Hollywood were on their way home.

Mrs. Smith and Miss Lundstrom left Glendale with a party of thirty-one on June 24, and have been touring Europe. After visiting Rome, Naples, Venice, Paris, London and many other places they left the main party and traveled through Norway, Sweden and Denmark.

Mrs. Smith is a native daughter of Denmark and it was to visit her childhood home that she made the side trip.

According to the word just received, which is the first that has carried U. S. postage since they left New York over three months ago, Mrs. Smith and Miss Lundstrom will spend three weeks visiting friends and points of interest in the States before returning to their California homes. This should get them to Glendale sometime before November 15.

Police Judge Lowe's Court Busy on Monday

The office of Police Judge F. H. Lowe Monday afternoon looked more like the interior of a prosperous bank than a judge's retreat. Piles of bank notes were on every hand and the judge and his assistants spent most of the afternoon counting the funds.

This unusual prosperity came to Judge Lowe as a result of the large number of fines paid in the morning by violators of automobile laws. Two alleged "drunks" and 189 motorists paid fines ranging up to $50.

Court was postponed last Thursday, the day being a holiday, and the cases scheduled for that day were heard Monday morning.

TODAY—Municipal Power for Frisco; California Motor Tax Plan

By ELLIS H. MARTIN
For International News Service

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16.—San Francisco is to add another municipal enterprise to her municipally operated street car lines. Preliminary steps have been taken to insure municipal distribution of the electric power generated by the completion of the city's gigantic Hetch Hetchy water project.

A special committee of leading citizens is now negotiating with private power companies owning distributing systems in San Francisco with a view to the purchase of one or more of the plants. Should they fail to secure a plant by purchase and the private power companies have indicated an unwillingness to sell—the committee will advise the electric power generators on ways and means of building a new system by the city.

The question is expected to come directly to the people in the form of a bond issue providing for the cost of the transmission and distributing lines. Inasmuch as the voters of San Francisco have gone on record many times in the past in favor of municipal ownership of utilities, the advocates of placing the city in the power business believe the issue will be carried easily. At the same time it is admitted there will be a powerful campaign against the city entering the electrical power field. No estimate has been made yet as to the amount of bonds that will be necessary to equip the city to enter the power field. A preliminary report by the city engineer tentatively fixed the cost at $45,000,000, but revised estimates may lower that figure. The city will be one of its own leading customers, as it now buys the electrical energy with which to operate its street car lines.

Under the new motor vehicle law, which became effective October 1, California motorists are paying a 2-cent-a-gallon tax on gasoline and distillate. It is estimated that the tax will return the state $18,000,000 for the fiscal year. Half of this sum is to be returned to the counties in proportion to the number of registered vehicles from each one and the balance goes into the state highway funds. The gasoline tax does away with the old horsepower motor tax. Hereafter only a $3 flat registration fee will be charged for his license. All of the state's share of the tax is to be used in repairs, resurfacing, and maintenance of roads. No new construction is to be undertaken from the funds thus collected.

Automobile engineers estimate that the average motorist under the new law will pay a tax of about $13.34 per annum. They estimate that Mr. "Average" Motorist uses his car to travel approximately 6,200 miles a year, using 517 gallons of "gas," or an average of twelve miles to the gallon. Paying 2 cents per gallon additional for his gasoline will cost him $10.24, and his registration fee will bring the total to $13.34. The burden of the collection of the tax falls upon the distributor, who is responsible for its payment by the purchaser of gasoline. He is required by law to keep books on his transactions and to turn over to the state the collected tax. This reduces the cost of collection for the state to a minimum. The California law passed by the last legislature was drawn after a careful study of similar statutes now in effect in other states and is believed to have eliminated some of the objectionable features which developed in some states.

Quite a controversy has arisen as a result of the bid of the Admiral Oriental line for the ten Shipping Board "President" ships operating on the Pacific run to the Orient. Five of the ships are now operated from San Francisco by the Pacific Mail Company and five from Seattle by the Admiral Oriental line, which is controlled by the Dollar interests. The Pacific Mail Company has made a bid for the five ships operated from San Francisco. The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce has gone on record backing this bid. The belief seems to have gained prevalence that the Seattle concern might be inclined to switch business to that port if they gain control of all ten ships. This has been emphatically denied by the Dollar spokesmen, who declare their bid is simply a business proposition.

CAPITAL'S SOCIETY IS ALL AGOG

News Of Elopement Causes Much Excitement

Mrs. George Reber Littlehales, whose marriage causes excitement in Washington society circles

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.—Political fireworks in the capital of late has become of secondary importance, particularly in gay society circles.

Matrimonial explosions are crowding the politicians out of the spotlight. And these marital blasts which are rocking capital society are not coming from divorce courts. On the contrary they are the result of the quiet but "nefarious" work of that eternal young plotter Dan Cupid.

For Dan has engineered a series of elopements, featuring some of the most popular members of the younger social set here.

The latest to break forth is the news of the marriage of Miss Dorothy Warren, one of last year's debbies, and George Reber Littlehales, well known in capital society circles.

News of this elopement was nothing less than a bombshell. The young couple eloped last July, the fourteenth to be exact, and their marriage was kept secret until just a day or two ago.

It climaxed a summer season that was featured by society elopements.

Now society leaders are sincerely considering the advisability of a confession party at which the supposed eligibles of the younger set will be guests of honor and invited to acquaint the worried dowagers of their state of blessedness—married or single.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY DUSTS THE PIANO.

"Nurse Jane! Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy! Will you come over to our hole house right away quick?" squealed Jollie Longtail, the mouse boy, one day. Jollie had crept up the steps of Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow and was gnawing at the door.

"Why, what's the matter? Is your mother ill?" asked Nurse Jane, coming out of the parlor with her broom in her paws.

"No, it isn't mother, it's my little sister, Jollie," answered Jollie. "She ate some cheese pudding and it went down her wrong throat and she's choking, and mother wants you to please come right over and help."

"Oh, Jollie, I'm so busy," said Nurse Jane. "But, of course—"

"What are you busy about?" asked Uncle Wiggily, who had just finished reading the morning Cabbage Leaf Gazette newspaper.

"Why, I'm busy with the sweeping," answered Nurse Jane. "That is, I have just finished sweeping, but I haven't dusted the piano, and Mrs. Twistytail, the lady pig, is coming over and if she sees dust on my piano it would be dreadful."

"Never mind about the dust on the piano," laughed Uncle Wiggily. "You skip along, Nurse Jane, and help to get the piece of cheese pudding out of Jollie's wrong throat. Skip along!"

So Nurse Jane dropped her broom and skipped along.

Uncle Wiggily sat on the porch of the hollow stump bungalow thinking.

"Muskrat lady housekeepers are very queer," said the rabbit gentleman to himself. "Nurse Jane thinks she has to dust the piano every Tuesday, whether a little mouse girl swallows cheese pudding the wrong way or not. Yes, indeed, it is very queer."

Then Uncle Wiggily's pink nose began to twinkle and he smiled. Then he laughed.

"I'll do it!" he said to himself. "I'll give Nurse Jane a little surprise and I'll dust the piano while she's away. When she comes back it will be nice and clean and she'll wonder how it happened. I suppose she wants it nice and shiny when Mrs. Twistytail comes to visit us."

Uncle Wiggily hopped inside the hollow stump bungalow and looked about for a cloth and the feather duster with which to clean the piano.

"I learned how to dust when I was a young rabbit," thought the bunny gentleman to himself, "and I guess I haven't forgotten."

Now, though Uncle Wiggily didn't know it, something had happened soon after Nurse Jane hopped away to go and get the piece of cheese pudding out of Jollie's wrong throat. And what had happened was this:

The Bob Cat had crept softly in the side door and had hidden himself behind the piano.

"Uncle Wiggily will never know I'm here," said the Bob Cat to himself, "and when he falls asleep I'll creep out and nibble his ears. I'm very smart to think of hiding behind the piano. The Fox or Wolf would never think of that."

So the Bob Cat scrooged himself up as small as he could to hide behind the piano, so no part of him would stick out. He wasn't wall, and the Bob Cat began to be squeezed as flat as a pancake.

"Oh, my!"

"Oh, ker-choo ker-choo! Let me out and I'll be good! Oh, how my nose itches and tickles and I can't scratch it because my paws are held fast!" howled the Bob Cat. "Oh, let me out and I'll be good!"

Then Uncle Wiggily pulled out the piano, and the Bob Cat feeling very flat, jumped out of the window, sneezing, "Ker-fo! Ker-choo! Ker-zoo!"

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny gentleman. "It's a good thing I learned to dust pianos when I was young." And when Nurse Jane came home, having gotten the piece of cheese pudding out of Jollie's wrong throat, the muskrat lady was very pleased.

So this teaches us that we never can learn too much about anything, and if the eye of the needle doesn't try to read the paper of pins, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the little tent.

Diet and Health

SWALLOWING WRONG THINGS AND SWALLOWING THEM

In case a child gets a small object in its mouth and is choking, turn quickly upside down and slap smartly on the back. If the child is too large to turn upside down, put him over a chair with his head and chest down. Be careful if you attempt to take the object out of the child's mouth not to push it farther down.

If the child should swallow the object, don't worry about it—unless it is a poison, of course; for if it can go down safely it can usually come out safely.

Don't give a cathartic. That will rush the object through and perhaps do damage. Feed the child a dish of cereal bran every meal if he is old enough. That will coat the object. If the child is not old enough for cereal, feed the regular diet, omitting the fruit juice for a few days. Watch the bowel movements for the appearance of the object, to ease your mind. Your physician may decide to have X-ray pictures to watch its progress if it is a pointed object. It may be a week or so before it appears.

Don't leave safety pins around babies nor allow them to have small objects to play with.

Never put poisons in medicine bottles without labeling them. Also get some tiny bells and tie one around the neck of any bottle containing a poison. This for the night-walkers.

Needless to say, all poisons should be kept out of the reach of children.

DIET EATING

Occasionally children will eat dirt, clay, pencils, chalk and plaster. It is generally thought that this habit indicates some abnormal craving of the child, and that it shows a need of the system for iron or some mineral. It may be possible that this is so, for we seldom see a child who is healthy and is normally fed, eat such things.

Of course, children are great imitators and I think it is possible that some perfectly healthy children might take up this habit.

Twenty: "I can afford only a few new clothes this winter. What would you advise me to get? I have a good heavy coat. I want to look stylish."

Answer: A famous designer of clothing has said: "A fur neckpiece, a string of beads and silk stockings are the secret of a stylish appearance." And I believe he's right! Everybody is now wearing a knife-pleated skirt and a jacquette blouse. My favorite combination is a dark blue wool-crepe skirt with a blue silk-crepe overblouse which has a touch of dark red or green in it—perhaps shot with a fine gold thread.

O. W.: "Is it good form to serve layer cake for breakfast? When, if ever, is it permissible to use paper napkins for home dinners? Of what benefit is charcoal to cistern water when it is kept in the water continually? Kindly give information about the edible artichoke and the way to cook it."

Answer: No, it is not good form to serve layer cake at breakfast. Paper napkins are convenient to use for picnics or at a time of upheaval in the home—such as when moving, when housecleaning or when there is illness. But people do not often use them regularly, even for home meals. Japanese crepe napkins (blue and white) are used by many housewives because they are the easiest to launder—simply requiring washing, and no ironing.

As to the cistern charcoal, the most approved method today is

THE BLACK SATIN FROCK
For the smarter functions of afternoon and evening, nothing is so fashionable as the frock of black satin. Paris designs this strikingly graceful model with a Y-shaped neck and vest of fall-over lace. There is a cascade drapery at either side of the skirt, which is attached to the blouse under a narrow belt of self material secured with buckles of black enamel and cut steel. The neck is collarless. Medium size requires 4 yards 40-inch satin and ½ yard lace. Insertion ten or more inches wide.
Pictorial Review Dress No. 1740. Sizes, 34 to 42 inches bust and 16 to 20 years. Price, 45 cents.

SMART IN CHIFFON SATIN
Paris adores chiffon satin and she adores lace, so what better idea than to combine the two as shown in this afternoon frock in atmosphere gray? The yoke and short sleeves are made of lace and sometimes the sleeves are lengthened with deep cuffs of the satin, gathered into narrow wristbands of lace. The skirt is slightly draped at either side and attached to the blouse with a self-piping, making a girde unnecessary. Medium size requires 3½ yards 36-inch satin and ¾ yard lace 36 inches wide.
Pictorial Review Dress No. 1742. Sizes, 34 to 42 inches bust, and 18 to 20 years. Price, 45 cents.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am twenty-one years old and have been married three years. We have a little girl two years old who is very dear to me. Her father loves her at times, but most of the time he doesn't want to be bothered with her and he hardly notices her.

I have never been happy with my husband because he has not been faithful to me. He was wonderful to me before we were married and although I had gone with other young men none of them had loved me so much or done so many things for me.

I hadn't been married two months before I found that my husband corresponded with other girls who did not know of his marriage. Since then he has gone out with other women and he spends far more money on them than he does on his own wife and little girl. Lately things have been so bad that he does not support us. We do not have enough food or clothing, but he has all the money he wants and all the clothes to go out nights with women.

It has come to a point where I will have to go to work. My father wants me to leave my husband and come home. I have always dreaded divorce, and because of our little girl I hate to resort to that now. It seems to me that if there is a possible chance she should not be separated from her father.

I have threatened to leave my husband before and he has always begged me to give him another chance. For two or three days he is better, but then he pays no attention to his promises. It seems to me I have given him another chance as long as I care to. I no longer have any respect for him and I could never trust him again. Do you think I ought to give him another chance again or return to my father? My mother will take care of the baby and I will work.

BEAUTY CHATS

ANSWERED LETTERS

Miss E. A. Y.: When pimples continue, even though there are no internal reasons for them, it will usually be found that they are infecting other parts of the skin, causing fresh eruptions.

This may explain why you are having so much difficulty in ridding yourself of the trouble. Such cases are easily cured by applications of healing ointments in which there is sulphur. When there is a head on any of the pimples it should be opened by using the point of a needle that has first been dipped in peroxide. Remove the pus carefully and apply peroxide to cleanse and purify the skin at this point.

Bobbie: An oily scalp that is full of dandruff shows it is in quite an unhealthy condition. I cannot print complete instructions for remedying at this time, but I shall be glad to mail such information to you on receipt of a stamped addressed envelope. In the meantime, massage your scalp vigorously every day. That will do much toward improving the whole condition.

Young Mother: Childbirth should leave the complexion clear, unless the liver is out of order, when there will be a tendency to jaundice or liver spots; in such a case a simple nourishing diet, in which spinach and other green vegetables are included, will improve the condition. If the spots do not leave after a time, bleach them off with peroxide or with cucumber juice.

P. F. F.: I will be glad to send you a formula for an excellent hair tonic upon receipt of a self-addressed, stamped envelope, repeating your request.

Brown Eyes: If you improve the circulation under your nails by frequent buffing, this tendency to white spots will disappear.

Worried: Hands that are always dry and hard like yours will be improved by using honey and almond lotions. If you do not find one that suits you, among the prepared ones in the trade, I will be glad to send you a formula for one.

V. F.: There is nothing better than a fine castle soap for the skin. Build up your general health and your face will fill out at the same time. You can increase your weight by taking a teaspoonful of grape juice three times a day. The best results will be obtained if this is taken with the meals.

L. F. N.: If you took lemon juice and salt in and out daily, especially before breakfast, it would upset your digestion and soon make you ill. You can reduce your weight by eating less of all the starchy foods, which will be a healthy way to rid yourself of this extra weight.

Tomorrow—When the Hair Splits.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes, in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

With the Women of Today

By MRS. LILIAN CAMPBELL

Mrs. Bernice S. Pyke, of Lakewood, O., Democratic national committee woman for Ohio, has been appointed regional director of Democratic women's activities in Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky.

This announcement was made in Washington recently by Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic national committee. Mrs. Pyke will maintain headquarters in Cleveland, of which her home, Lakewood, is a suburb.

Soon after the November elections a regional meeting will be held in Cleveland which Mrs. Emily Newell Blair, vice chairman of the Democratic national committee, will attend. Mrs. Blair is in charge of the women's work at the Washington headquarters. Plans will be made for mobilizing women throughout the country for the 1924 presidential campaign.

Mrs. Pyke is a veteran of Ohio suffrage campaigns. She was the first woman ever selected as a delegate to a national political convention.

PROTECTIVE GIRLS' CLUB IS OPENED

Helping Others is the keynote of the work of the Girls' Service Club of the New York Protective and Probation Association. The club provides a safe and comfortable home for the girl who is stranded.

Two brownstone houses have been remodeled into an attractive clubhouse with an Old English sign and a lantern pointing the way to the open door. Here are safety, food and lodging. Here is the employment exchange, where, without fee, girls may find work to which they are best fitted. Here is the Girls' Service Bureau, through which friendly, sympathetic help is given, and where the physician and psychiatrist study their abilities and make recommendations for their future. In the large clubrooms league meetings are held, at which girls learn about laws and method of helping others, and discuss problems of vital concern to them. Teas on Sunday afternoons, music and speeches Sunday evenings, clubs, classes, recreation and parties groups of blind girls or poor children help club members to fulfill the purpose of helping others.

WOMEN TAXI DRIVERS

Women taxi drivers have made good in New York. This seems to be an accepted fact. Many women passengers, strangers of the ways of New York, prefer to trust a fellow woman to pilot them about than a man. Of course there are always people who "wouldn't take a chance riding in a cab driven by a girl," and these people disheartened the women more than blown-out tires and other mechanical troubles. But the consensus of opinion is that the woman driver has come to stay.

"Women are more careful drivers than men," said R. R. Wilson, head of the taxi corporation that introduced the women to the driver's seat of a taxicab. "Women do not take the long chances common among the men chauffeurs. They are more obedient to the regulations, obeying them not only when there is a traffic policeman around but at all other times as well. They do not loiter, but pay strict attention to business. And they take an interest in keeping their machines as neat as possible, giving their cars such attention as they accord to their own appearance."

Mrs. Bernice S. Pyke

Aunt Jinny, a Carolina negress, was a great admirer of the rod as a help in child rearing. As a result of an unmerciful beating which she gave her youngest and "ornariest," she was brought into court one day by outraged neighbors, says Everybody's.

The judge, after giving her a severe lecture, asked if she had anything to say.

"Jest one thing, judge," she replied. "I wants ax you a question: Was you ever the parent of a perfectly wuthless cullud chile?"

SUNLAND TRUSTEES GIVEN CONFIDENCE VOTE

Voters Indorse School Board in Face of Criticism at Mass Meeting

At a mass-meeting at the Monte Vista school at Sunland, called for the purpose of discussing school problems and the coming $2000 bond election, the efficiency of the trustees was questioned by George Butts, who called the meeting. A vote of confidence was given the trustees on a motion by W. E. Morgan.

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 and Rev. W. E. Smith was elected chairman for the evening. At his request Mr. Butts addressed the meeting and outlined its purpose.

Scores Trustees

Mr. Butts stated that he had no desire to discourage the sale of the bonds to cover a deficit of $413.77 in the building fund and to buy new equipment for the school, but felt that he should call the trustees to task for negligence in performing their duties. He then outlined all their alleged shortcomings and inquired how long the electors of the district were going to stand for the charged inefficiency.

W. E. Morgan then moved for a vote of confidence. It was seconded and carried by a large majority.

The bond election is called for October 27. C. C. Campbell, clerk of the board, addressed the meeting and asked the support of the voters in authorizing the bond sale.

Mrs. W. E. Morgan, Principal Creighton and Mrs. Miller also addressed the meeting.

John McVine, one of the pioneer residents of Sunland, recently submitted to an operation of a minor nature in an attempt to improve his health, which has been poor for some time.

EAGLE ROCK OXY WILL STAGE SPORT CARNIVAL

Coach Joseph A. Pipal Plans Great Event for Eagle Rock Institution

A winter athletic carnival at Occidental college, in Eagle Rock, has been decided upon, according to Joe A. Pipal, coach. The event will be staged December 8.

"The carnival is to be composed chiefly of relays, short hurdle races, all the jumps, and several sprint events, as well as punting, drop kicking, place kicking, football contests and forward passes for distance and accuracy."

"We believe," states Mr. Pipal, "that there is a great need in Southern California of a track event in early winter to condition contestants for early spring track meets. We appreciate the probability of encountering rainy or chilly weather, but believe our chances along these lines are much better than in the east and middle west where the track season is in full blast during the middle of April."

Long Felt Need

"College and high school coaches universally agree with our program which is acclaimed as a long-felt need. Coaches will be enabled to develop new material by means of these contests."

"We believe this departure from customary paths in athletic development in Southern California will tend to eliminate much of the criticism against strenuous competition for track men early in the season. Incidentally, we believe an outdoor winter relay carnival will be a good advertisement for this part of the state."

Special novice races are scheduled for those who have never earned a college letter in track and field competition or in prep school.

Dr. Vack Tells of Chiropractic Board

The statement that chiropractors have appealed to the state medical examining board for permission to practice in this state, as published in one of the Los Angeles papers, is characterized by Dr. Albert Vack, 105 South Maryland street, secretary of the San Fernando Valley Chiropractic Society, as being unfounded.

The chiropractors, Dr. Vack declares, have their own examining board, authorized under the initiative measure adopted at the election in November, 1922, and a ruling by Attorney General Webb of California. Dr. Vack asserts, specifically states that the state medical board cannot examine candidates for a druggist license. Those who may have asked the medical board for license to practice, Dr. Vack claims, are men who had previously obtained licenses as druggist practitioners, but whose licenses have, since the appointment of the chiropractic examining board, been revoked, as they conflicted with the provisions of the act passed last year.

The validity of the chiropractic law is to be tested in the state supreme court, Dr. Vack says, and the members of the chiropractic organization are standing solidly behind the governor and the board and will not permit any violation of the law giving them an examining board of their own.
